Prince ^{OF} Wales

General Manager: Kelly Exelby

Address: 6 Picton Street • Niagara-on-the-Lake • Ontario • Canada

Telephone: 905-468-3246 Fax: 905-468-1310 Toll Free: 1-888-669-5566

Step inside the intimate Prince of Wales and enter a sophisticated and refined oasis of Victorian elegance filled with 21st century comforts. One of Ontario's finest hotels and one of the world's finest heritage hotels, Prince of Wales offers charm, elegance, and romance in a uniquely intimate setting. Here, Old World sophistication blooms in carefully considered details such as fine English china in the Drawing Room, an original artwork of the grand lobby, and a magnificent wine cellar.

Built in 1864, Prince of Wales is the heart of historic Niagara-on-the-Lake. Known by several different names in its history; Long's Hotel, The Arcade Hotel, and The Niagara House, it was named Prince of Wales in honour of a royal visit in 1901, where the future George V and Queen Mary were guests.

At Prince of Wales, each room is a unique and intimate hideaway, a private refuge from the modern world. Each of the 110 guestrooms is individually designed and furnished in the authentic style of the Victorian age; no two experiences are exactly alike. Every room features elegant antiques, exquisite traditional brocades and tapestries, crisp 300 thread count linens and plush duvets. Spacious bathrooms have marble and ceramic fixtures, many of them with delicately stenciled designs. Individual touches make every visit a delight, from a complimentary bowl of fresh fruit, to a plush bathrobe and heated towel to slip into after enjoying a luxurious bath. Many rooms offer king-size beds and gas fireplaces for an experience so decadent that guests may not want to leave.

At Noble, the hotel's flagship restaurant, dynamic seasonal menus are sure to stimulate and satisfy the most discerning palates. Sommelier Fred Gamula guides guests through a collection of wine thoughtfully selected from the most prestigious vineyards in the Niagara Region and around the world. Less formal dining is available in Churchill Lounge, which features a menu of elevated pub fare as well as weekend charcuterie. An authentic English afternoon tea is served in The Drawing Room. After dinner, guests can find a calèche right outside the door and enjoy a romantic carriage ride through the town.

Secret Garden Spa is an oasis of serenity with the natural influences of earth, fire and water. Guests can immerse themselves in this secret world, and be pampered with tea-infused treatments, aesthetics, healing reflexology, and the ancient art of aromatherapy. The saltwater swimming pool, manicure and pedicure salon and treatment rooms make every visit a journey of discovery.

Prince of Wales provides eight beautifully-appointed conference and event spaces with the latest business amenities. The opulent spaces are ideal for small executive gatherings and corporate retreats. With 8,639 total square feet of meeting space, groups up to 230 can innovate and inspire in the first capital of Canada.

QUEEN'S LANDING

Queen's Landing

General Manager: Lily Kszan

Address: 155 Bryon Street • Niagara-on-the-Lake • Ontario • Canada

Telephone: 905-468-2195 Fax: 905-468-2227 Toll Free: 1-888-669-5566

Queen's Landing is a grand Georgian-style mansion with elegant décor, attentive service, and a breathtaking waterfront setting. Located at the meeting point of the Niagara River and Lake Ontario, it is an ideal location for a romantic leisure getaway or a successful business meeting.

Built in 1990, Queen's Landing was erected on the site of the Old Niagara Harbour and Dock Company, incorporated in 1831. Its architecture reflects the Georgian Era, a very significant period in the development of Upper Canada. The exterior features Venetian windows, heavy pediments with mouldings, and large columns. The interior is flooded with natural light, which pours in through floor-to-ceiling windows. The Scarlett O'Hara entrance is inspired by a sweeping staircase surrounded by marble floors and stained glass accents which define the Queen's Landing as a mansion with style.

Queen's Landing offers 140 bright, spacious rooms and suites. Recently redecorated with a modern flair, each room features plush hypoallergenic duvets, two-inch mattress pads and 300 thread count sheets. More than half of the rooms feature a jetted tub, a fireplace, or both. Luxurious bathrobes and a comfortable couch to curl up on make guests feel right at home.

Queen's Landing provides a full range of executive-quality meeting facilities ranging from a magnificent Grand Georgian Ballroom, to more than a dozen smaller rooms for breakout sessions and more intimate gatherings. The conference centre is home to 18 meeting rooms over 22,676 total square feet. Meetings and events of up to 420 can enjoy this world-class meeting space.

In Tiara Restaurant, guests enjoy a panoramic view of historic Niagara-on-the-Lake Harbour or dine alfresco on a waterfront patio. From Sunday brunch to date night dinners, Tiara delivers contemporary cuisine that defines Niagara. Guests can enjoy their meals complemented with award-winning wines from the Niagara Region and vintages from around the world. Casual, sophisticated dining is available in Bacchus Lounge.

A fully equipped fitness centre is available on site, with an indoor saltwater pool, hot tub, sauna, steam room and exercise room.

PILLAR^{AND}POST

General Manager: Ryan Murray

Address: 48 John Street • Niagara-on-the-Lake • Ontario • Canada

Telephone: 905-468-2123 Fax: 905-468-3551 Toll Free: 1-888-669-5566

Pillar and Post is a charming country inn with a past intimately connected to Niagara-on-the-Lake's agricultural history. The hotel has a relaxed elegance, highlighted by an abundance of fresh flowers, sunshine streaming in through skylights, and beautiful terra cotta tile floors. An ideal location for a family vacation or business meeting, Pillar and Post is Ontario's only five-star country inn.

Originally known as Factory 13, a canning factory in the late 1890's, the company was regarded as one of the foremost producers of quality peaches and tomatoes in the Niagara region for over 20 years. In 1914, the upper floor became a supply storeroom for several hundred Polish soldiers being trained in Canada. In 1957, Factory 13 ended its 60-year reign as a cannery and was reopened as a basket manufacturer until 1970 when it was converted into a restaurant and craft centre. Finally, in 1972, it was lovingly transformed into a fine hotel. Its original purpose is evoked in the clean lines of the brick walls and in the post-and-beam construction.

Pillar and Post's 122 guestrooms are filled with comfortable contemporary furnishings and luxurious amenities. A range of room styles are available all have plush hypoallergenic duvets, two-inch mattress pads, and 300-thread-count sheets, plus many small touches that provide the unique feeling of a fine country inn. Above all, these are rooms to relax in: guests can slip into a plush bathrobe, curl up on a comfortable couch in the sitting area, order room service, draw a luxurious bath, and spend the day indulging in the peace and quiet of a private hideaway.

Pillar and Post's 100 Fountain Spa offers guests an escape to relaxation and tranquility. A visit to the 13,000 square foot spa includes access to the fireplace lounge in our interior seating area as well as our heated indoor saltwater pool, hot tub, outdoor pool, hot spring pool, and fitness center. An expert team is able to offer a wide selection of services to soothe both body, mind and soul. Treatments include; signature vinotherapy, hydrotherapy rain shower experiences, hot stone massage, rejuvenating facials and reflexology.

Chef Mark Longster welcomes guests to the Cannery Restaurant with a menu that brings local flavours to the table using ingredients from the Niagara region. The Cannery is one of the top spots in Niagara-on-the-Lake to enjoy a steak and a glass of fine wine. Casual diners can unwind with elevated pub fare and award-winning Niagara wines in the Vintages Wine Bar and Lounge.

Pillar and Post welcomes families with children. Families will love the indoor and outdoor swimming pools and patio.

Pillar and Post provides 11 updated and spacious conference rooms complete with the modern amenities necessary for corporate events. Over 11,000 square feet of flexible spaces suitable for a variety of events and groups up to 250 is available.

MILLCROFT INN & SPA

General Manager: Bill Cutt

Address: 55 John Street • Alton-Caledon • Ontario • Canada

Telephone: 519-941-8111 Fax: 519-941-1960 Toll Free: 1-888-383-3976

The remarkable beauty of a woodland setting surrounded by serene waters and rolling hills is the hallmark of the Millcroft Inn & Spa. An award-winning property for accommodations, dining and spa, the 52-room Millcroft Inn was adopted into the Vintage Hotels family in late 2008. At less than an hour's drive northwest of Toronto, the Millcroft is an ideal country retreat for those seeking respite from the stress of their busy lives.

The main stone building of today's Millcroft was originally known as the Alton Knitting Mill. Built in 1881, the mill harnessed the power of adjacent Shaw's Creek to produce yarn and blankets in the days before central heating. Later challenges of a dam break along Shaw's Creek in 1889 and a fire in 1917 led to the reconstruction of the Main Mill which allowed it to operate as a knitting mill until 1965. After it was sold, the property caught the attention of tourism developers who recognized the allure of this rugged stone mill set amidst untouched forests and meadows.

Today a 100-acre landscape includes Millcroft's three guestroom buildings, the spa and conference centre. The historic Main Mill contains Headwaters Restaurant and terrace, a lounge, banquet room and 22 beautiful guestrooms, many of which overlook the Millpond and shimmering Shaw's Creek Falls. Each guestroom is accented with a mixture of European and Canadian antiques. The Manor House (circa 1883) was originally the family residence for Mr. Benjamin Ward, founder of the Alton Knitting Mill, and today houses 10 spacious guestrooms featuring antique furnishings.

Twenty Croft units are just a short walk from the Main Mill and feature contemporary and rustic décor in a two-storey chalet with wood-burning fireplace, a number of Croft's include private outdoor hot tubs. The Crofts are conveniently located next to the Millcroft Spa. No matter which building guests stay in, they are guaranteed comfortable accommodations, impeccable service, and a breathtaking view.

Spa goers have delighted in the Millcroft Spa, Centre for Well-Being since this 9,000 square foot spa opened in 2005. Offering a complete range of professional spa services, the spa has also developed an impressive selection of unique signature treatments and therapies, available in its 17 treatment areas. Guests can relax in the Spa Lounge a bright, open area with fireplace, comfy seating and an impressive view of the forest and then enjoy a relaxing bite to eat in the Spa Café. After a roster of healing treatments, guests leave with rejuvenated bodies, minds and souls. In December 2015, The Millcroft added the all-season outdoor hot springs facility consisting of two outdoor hot spring pools, a heated saltwater pool and a polar plunge pool. The outdoor hot spring pools will soothe your cares away and are a perfect complement to any relaxing spa treatment.

A passion for pleasing the senses extends from the Spa into Headwaters Restaurant. Chef James Buder showcases his culinary skill and artistry by creating carefully crafted menus using locally-sourced ingredients to serve the bounty of Ontario with each meal. From a continental country breakfast to savoury lunches and sumptuous dinners, a dining experience in “the pod” overlooking the rushing falls of Shaw’s Creek is simply not to be missed.

Millcroft offers a true corporate retreat setting for groups of up to 80. With 6 meeting rooms spanning 4,709 total square feet, groups enjoy a conference centre located in a historic limestone building that is surrounded by 100-acres of natural beauty that inspires your team to greatness.
